KELLY RIDGE ESTATES OWNERS' ASSOCIATION (KREOA) Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) #2

What are some of the most common CC&R violations? It is suggested that situations be discussed with your neighbors or alleged violators to solve the problems. The other parties may not be aware of the restrictions or realize that an activity may be objectionable.

Barking Dogs. There is no specific violation for barking, however the restriction regarding annoying or nuisance activity could apply. Dogs left unattended tend to develop annoying behavior such as barking or seeking ways to escape from confinement, in addition to being subject to danger or discomfort from weather conditions or other animals. There are recommendations from Butte County Animal Services regarding barking dogs outlined at:

<http://www.buttecounty.net/ph/Animals/DogServices/BarkingGuidelines>.

Noise. The restriction regarding annoying or nuisance activity could also apply to noise. There is also noise ordinances in Butte County regulations.

Parking. Street parking is allowed in Kelly Ridge Estates, however vehicles (cars, boats, trailers, etc.) may not remain unmoved for a period of 3 or more continuous days.

Property Maintenance. No dismantled vehicles, indoor furniture, appliances, etc., should be stored on vacant lots or outside of residences. All lots should be maintained so as not to become unsightly or contain an accumulation of rubbish or debris.

Temporary Housing. No temporary structure, RV, or trailer may be used as a dwelling place. Such activity is also a violation of Butte County regulations.

Other. See Article VIII of the CC&Rs for complete information on violations.

How are violations resolved? There is a complaint form online or in the KREOA office, which may be used to advise the Board regarding violations. The complaints are handled on an anonymous basis, the owners are notified by the Association of infractions and the action that needs to be taken to correct the problems.

Other services offered by KREOA: Weed Abatement Programs The possibility of wildfires is a profoundly serious threat in Kelly Ridge and the surrounding communities. The Association offers a voluntary program for weed cutting for owners to sign up for their property to be cleared by a contractor hired by KREOA if they are unable to clear their lots of weed or do not wish to hire an independent contractor. If weeds are not cut by the time the voluntary cutting is completed, the Association will notify those owners that the contractor hired by KREOA will be scheduled to cut their property and they will be billed for the associated costs.

Clean-up Events. KREOA provides owners and tenants of Kelly Ridge Estates an opportunity for the free drop off of household items and yard waste twice a year. KREOA participates in a grant program offered in cooperation with Recology to provide dumpsters for the collection, when available.
